Who reads BuildList.com

BuildList.com is the directory Ugandan construction professionals use to find each other, and that buyers use to find them. It carries 618 listed firms across 19 categories and 14 districts, alongside live procurement notices, a jobs board and a weekly material price index.

The audience is not general consumers. It is the people who specify, procure and buy: quantity surveyors pricing a bill, contractors sourcing a subcontractor, procurement officers checking whether a bidder exists, and property owners about to start building.

About our audience figures

We do not publish visitor numbers we cannot evidence. BuildList.com is newly launched, and until Google Analytics has a full quarter of data behind it we will not quote a monthly reach figure. Any advertiser who asks will be shown the analytics account directly. We would rather quote you a real small number than an impressive invented one, and we would expect you to check.

Advertising positions

Twelve slots across the site. Every one is labelled as advertising, and none of them affects where a firm appears in search results — ranking is not for sale, which is what keeps the directory worth reading.

Display advertising

Tenders leaderboard	Top of the tenders board	970×90

Monthly features

Product	What it is
Product of the Month	One manufacturer or distributor per calendar month, written up as a short article on the homepage and carried in the weekly digest. You supply the facts, we write the copy, you approve it.
Sponsored article	A full article in the news section, labelled as sponsored. Useful for a technical explainer or a product launch.
Newsletter sponsorship	Full-width slot in the weekly digest to our opted-in subscriber list.
Featured tender notice	Your notice pinned to the top of the tenders board until it closes.
Featured job posting	Your vacancy pinned to the top of the jobs board.

What is not for sale

Search ranking. A verified badge — verification is a check we perform, not a product. Removal of a competitor. Favourable reviews, or the removal of unfavourable ones. And the Benchmark Project slot, which is editorial and chosen on merit. Every one of these has been offered to us in some form; the answer stays no, because the moment any of them is buyable the directory is worth nothing to advertisers either.

Listing tiers for firms

Separate from display advertising. These are for a construction business that wants to be found, rather than a brand that wants to reach them.

Tier	What it includes
Free	Name, one category, one phone number, area and map pin. Free permanently, and we never charge to remove a listing.
Starter	Photographs, WhatsApp button, precise map pin, opening hours, full description and a shareable link.
Verified	Everything above, plus the verified badge after a physical check, three categories, catalogue upload, priority ranking and lead alerts.
Premium	Top-of-category placement, unlimited photographs, a written profile and a monthly performance report.
Platinum	Category exclusivity, homepage banner rotation, a sponsored buying guide and a quarterly market report.

Creative specifications

Format	Requirement
Banner image	PNG or JPG at the exact slot size shown. Under 150KB. Creatives are never stretched — a different shape letterboxes instead, so send the right size to use the whole space.
Flier	Any shape, portrait or square. 800–1200px on the long edge, under 300KB. Keeps its natural proportions and gets an enlarge link.
Video	MP4, H.264, under 30 seconds and under 5MB. Plays muted with controls; never autoplays with sound. Supply a poster image at the same aspect ratio.
Text advertisement	A headline, two sentences and a button label. No artwork needed — the easiest format if you have no design team.
Destination link	Required on every format, including a WhatsApp link if you prefer. All advertiser links carry rel="nofollow sponsored", as Google requires for paid placement.
Alt text	Required. Read aloud by screen readers and shown if the file fails to load.

On rates

We quote rather than publish. A posted rate card is read by competitors before it is read by customers, and it turns a conversation about what a campaign is worth into a negotiation against a number on a page. Tell us what you sell and who you want to reach and we will send a rate card the same day, priced for the positions that fit rather than the ones that cost most.

Booking and payment

- Minimum booking one month for display positions; single insertions for tenders, jobs and sponsored articles.
- Artwork due five working days before the campaign starts.

- Rates quoted on request, valid 30 days from quotation.
- Payment in advance by mobile money or bank transfer. Invoices issued by Sharplink Ventures (U) Limited.
- Impression and click counts reported monthly for every campaign.
- Cancellation with 30 days' notice; unused months refunded pro rata.

Why advertise here rather than on social media

This is the honest comparison, because you will make it anyway.

	Facebook or TikTok	BuildList.com
Reach	Much larger	Much smaller
Cost per thousand	Lower	Higher
Who sees it	Anyone in the targeting bracket	People actively looking for a supplier, on the page for that category
Intent at the moment of seeing it	Browsing	Buying, or pricing a job
How long it lives	Hours, then it is gone down the feed	The whole month, in the same place
Best for	Awareness at scale	Being found by the person specifying your product this week

If you are launching a consumer brand, social media is the better buy and we will say so. If you sell cement, paint, steel, roofing, fittings or plant to people who are building right now, the difference is that our reader already has a project.

Talk to us

Tell us what you sell and who you want to reach, and we will propose the positions that fit rather than the most expensive ones. If your budget is better spent elsewhere this quarter, we will tell you that too.
